

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It would not have been possible to write this thesis without the help and support of the people around me. I am indebted to all of them however over here I would like to mention. God has been really kind to me in providing strength and love to move forward in this endeavor which has been full of crests and he has given me courage that enables me to face all the challenges during my research works.

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge my indebtedness and profound sense of gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. H. R. Kataria, Professor and Head, Department of Mathematics, Faculty of Science, The M. S. University of Baroda, Vadodara, Gujarat, India for not only portentous me the research problem but also for his eminent guidance, constant encouragement, constructive counselling, stimulating discussions, affectionate encouragement and keen inspiration throughout the course leading this investigation to a successful accomplishment. I am grateful to him particularly for his kindness, hospitality and understanding and for all the help and advice I have received from him not only related to the work but also on various aspects during the course of my investigations.

My thanks go to the entire faculty members and staff in Department of Mathematics for assistance in my Ph.D. study. I am highly indebted to them for being there. I cannot forget the cooperation and encouragement that I have always received from Shri Gopalbhai and other non-teaching staff of the department.

Very special thanks to my loving friends Mr. Harshad R. Patel, Mr. Rakesh Darji, Mr. Rahul Mehta, Mr. Tushar Kulkarni, Mr. Jani Mrudul and their family members for helping me throughout my research work and providing insights.

I am also thankful to my Principal A. S. Rathore, colleagues, Dr. R. M. Patel, Dr. N. D. Raykundaliya and Mr. D. R. Sanyasi and other faculty members for their love and friendly environment. They all were source of great encouragement to me.

I express my deepest sense of gratitude to my beloved parents Shri. Satishchand M. Mittal and Smt. Rajkumari Mittal for their moral support, innocent love, unfailing patience, affectionate encouragement, kind co-operation and valuable blessings.

My heart felt regard goes to my father in-law, Shri Rajendra Prasad Garg and mother in-law, Smt. Chandra Garg for their love and moral support.

Words are not enough to express my affectionate amiable thanks to my brother cum friend Nikhil S. Mittal, his wife Sonal N. Mittal, my sister in law Parul Garg and my brother in law Himanshu Garg for their encouragement and unselfish commitment to support me; right from the registration till the successful completion of this journey.

Finally, Thanks to my better half, Nupur for being always there for strengthening my confidence, constantly motivating me in all the situations. She is the reason for this successful journey.

I am thankful to library staff and administrative staff of the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara.

I am also indebted to all those researchers whose work (quoted in the bibliography) I have consulted.

Finally, my thanks go to all the people who have supported me directly or indirectly for my research works.
