

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Writing this master thesis and performing the research was a great learning opportunity in the field of conducting research. Furthermore it was a great joy and wonderful experience. The last couples of years were very challenging for me but in the end conducting a proper research for the thesis is all worth the effort. I have been such a lucky person that I have been surrounded by wonderful groups of teachers, friends, and family members. It is my greatest pleasure to acknowledge all the people who have helped me in achieving my goal.

Firstly, I offer my greatest gratitude to my respected guide, Prof. (Dr.) Shirish R. Kulkarni, Professor in Department of Accounting and Financial Management, for his immense knowledge, support, patients and motivation in the preparation of this study. Without his priceless guidance in shaping my knowledge, all my efforts could have been limited. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD. Study.

I owe a lot to my family particularly to my parents and grandparents. During my education process, my parents Devi B. Dharamsi and Bharat T. Dharamsi have been always my motivation source by believing in me and giving courage to me all the time. They are the main source of my desire to be successful in both academic and in life. I would like to dedicate this thesis to them

I offer special thanks to my younger brother Rahul for supporting me and always being with me. He is really a great brother and a friend I can ever have. I am very lucky to have him.

I extend my heartily thanks to my friend Tripti Gujral for her great support and help during my course of study.

I am also thankful to the librarians of Hansa Mehta library, the M.S. University of Baroda for their help in getting the relevant reference, material, books and journals to study.

I am thankful to Shri Mayank Ray for his continues support for analysis during my research work.

Thanks are also extended to all the teaching and non-teaching staff of Faculty of Commerce, for their help.

I would also like to thank management and staff of Indian Banks' Association Mumbai for providing necessary information on banking sector.

Last but not the least; I would like to thank the Almighty for his blessing hands on me that encouraged me in accomplishing this study. Without His blessing this study could not have seen the light of the day.
