

CONTENTS

	GLOSSARY	PAGE NO.
CHAPTER ONE :
INTRODUCTION		1
- Historical Prespective of Approaches to Advertising		2
- Source as the influences		6
- The Spokesperson as a perceived source		8
- Definition of Celebrity Endorsers		9
- The use of celebrities in different Advertising trends		10
- Celebrity and Credibility		13
- The choice of celebrity		14
- Types and sources of power		18
- Information processing and celebrity role		20
- Consumer buying process		22
CHAPTER TWO :
- Statement of the Problem		29
- Conceptual Issues		30
- Earlier studies		33
CHAPTER THREE :
- Experimental Design		37
- Testing in the open field		37
- Alternatives		40
- The choice of Advertisement copy		43
- Experiment organisation and time schedule		45
- Guidelines to the Experiment.Repeatition of the commercial		49
- Some general Guidelines Recommended by Blech and Blech		50
- Sample Design		52
CHAPTER FOUR :
METHODOLOGY		56
- The questionnaire Design		57
- Other alternative methods of item analysis		65
- Interpretation of scores		67
- Reliability of attitude scores		68
- Likert scale and Thurstone scale values of statement		71

CHAPTER FIVE :

STATISTICAL ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS

-	Statistical analysis	75
-	Assumptions in ANOCOVA	76
-	Dimensional analysis	83
-	Findings	93
-	Conclusion	93
-	Limitations of the study	95

BIBLIOGRAPHY	96
---------------------	----

APPENDIX

Appendix	I	Questionnaire
Appendix	II	Demographic profile of the sample and paired observations of the two experimental groups.