

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The investigator expresses her appreciation and deep gratitude to Dr. (Ms.) A. Chandra, Reader, Department of Home Science Education and Extension, for her brilliant guidance, constant encouragement and generous advice throughout this work. The rich experience and benevolent nature of Dr. Chandra have been liberally drawn upon to complete the research work.

Valuable advice and suggestions provided by Professor (Miss) P.S. Chari, Head of the Department of Home Science Education and Extension and Dean of Faculty of Home Science, from time to time are very sincerely acknowledged.

I feel greatly indebted to the Vice-Chancellors of the Agricultural Universities who permitted the investigator to collect data from the teachers of their universities.

The investigator is also thankful to the Deans of Colleges of Agricultural Universities who sent the names of the teachers working in their colleges.

My special thanks are due to Professor H.A. Joshi, Dr. P.D. Mistry and Dr. Ramjibhai Patel of Gujarat Agricultural University, Anand; and Dr. M.S. Yadav and Dr. D.C. Joshi of CASE who provided their full cooperation for construction of the research tool and its pre-testing.

The investigator's very special thanks are also due to the teachers of Agricultural Universities, who spared their most valuable time and responded to the questionnaire.

I also express my deepest gratitude to Shri Upendrabhai Patel, the Managing Director of Dinesh Mills Ltd. and Operational Research Group of Sarabhai, Baroda, for the help they provided in computerising the data.

The investigator feels greatly indebted to Dr.S.R.Hashim, Professor, Department of Economics, Faculty of Arts, for the statistical help, time to time advice and going through the manuscript very patiently.

My thanks are due to the Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana, for granting the study leave for higher education.

The investigator expresses her sincere thanks to Shri B.D.Mistry for his expertise and patience in typing the thesis.

Lastly, I express my thanks and gratitude to my well-wishers, friends and family members who inspired me throughout the period of this study.

Baroda
January, 1980.

GEEETA GOYAL
