

Acknowledgement

Completion of this doctoral dissertation was possible with the support of several people. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all of them. First of all, I am extremely grateful to my research guide, Dr. Rameshwari Pandya, Professor at Department of Extension and Communication, for her valuable guidance, scholarly inputs and consistent encouragement that I have received throughout the research work. This research was possible only because of her unconditional support. A person with an amicable and positive disposition, she has always made herself available to clarify my doubts despite her busy schedules and thus I consider it as a great opportunity to do my doctoral programme under her able guidance.

My Special thanks to Prof. Anjali Pahad, Head of the Department of Extension and Communication and other teachers from the department, Prof. Uma Joshi, Dr. Avani Maniar and Dr. Anuradha Mathu for their valuable suggestions, advice, and constructive criticism at the time of validation of the tool as well as during various stages of the study.

Sincere thanks are extended to the experts, Dr. Bhavana Mehta, Professor at the Faculty of Social Work, late Ms. Trupti Shah, A socialist and founder of “Sahiyar, Stri Sanghathan” – a non-for-profit organization working on women’s issues, Dr. Rachana Bhangaokar, Professor and Dr. Namita Bhatt, Lecturer from the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, for their valuable time and guidance provided during validation of the research tool.

I was very much privileged to have a friend like ‘Mitali’ who provided unconditional support at the stage of tool construction and data collection of the study. I am very thankful to Dr. Harikrushna Patel, Ms. Chetna Patel, Ms. Kiran Patel, Ms. Pooja Mistry, Dr. Shivani Mehta, Ms. Leena Chauhan, Ms. Jagrati Vadnerkar and Ms. Dhara Bhatt for their kind support at the time of thesis submission.

A very special gratitude goes out to my parents Mr. Dhanjibhai Patel and Shardaben Patel, who always inspired me to pursue higher studies. I thank my mom who inspired me to pursue doctoral research and always supported me in my most frustrating times. She never make me loose a hope for completing my doctoral programme. Thanks to my papa who always being a good friend and guru for me to solve my big emotional problems so easily. I owe a lot to both of them for this achievement.

My in-laws Mr. Dilipnhai Patel and Mrs. Jyotsanaben Patel, have always done their best to render whatever support they could. Both of them have always extended their kind help in every possible way so that I can complete this study. I deeply thank them for their constant support.

My brother Jignesh Patel, Ravi Patel and cousin Urvashi Patel, who always supported me, especially when I was not able to spare time for them.

Last but not least, my hearty thanks goes to my loving husband “Digvijay Patel” for his constant encouragement and pushing me enough to complete the research. I am very much indebted to my little angle Deeva, who sacrificed her childhood. The thesis would not have come to a successful completion, without their kind support.

- Ms. Sarika Patel