

VITA

Sthitaprajna was born on 2nd September 1977 at Sambalpur, Orissa. She had her schooling at Kendriya Vidyalaya in Koraput, Graduation and M.Phil at Ravenshaw College, Cuttack and MA in English Literature from the University of Hyderabad, Diploma in Journalism at IGNOU and her Post-Graduate Diploma in Teaching English at CIEFL, Hyderabad. Besides, she graduated in Odissi dance from Chandigarh and in 1996 she was invited by the Freethinkers' Association of Berlin to perform Odissi dance in different cities of Germany.

Her publications include: Stories that Stir for children, published by Vidyasagar, Cuttack in 2002, Communicative English for Everyday Use, co-authored with Dr Umesh Patri and Dr Prativa Devi and published by Waldenwoods, Cuttack in 2003, and Parables of Jesus and Buddha: Exegesis and Anamoly, published by Intellectual Publishing House, New Delhi in 2004.

She has taught at M. K. Amin College of M. S. University of Baroda during 2002-2003 and at present is a lecturer in English in the Institute of Technical Education and Research (ITER), Bhubaneswar, Orissa.