

Acknowledgement

Successful completion of this academic endeavor in my life is owed to so many individuals; I have been looking forward since long to write this section of my thesis to offer my gratitude to every one for their direct or indirect support without which this journey would not have been completed. I thank them all from the bottom of my heart.

Words have little power to express my feelings of profound gratitude to my esteemed Guide Dr. R. C. Patel, for his constant inspiration, open-mindedness, readiness to accept the limitations of an individual and still put faith and help one develop. This is the rarest quality in a human-being that I was blessed to find in my guide. His great sense of identifying the potentials of his students, ever hopeful, affectionate and still firing for the perfection, not allowing any compromises with the quality of work has developed me a lot, not only as a researcher but also as a professional and a social being. His excellence in teaching, experience of being a science teacher and in depth knowledge of research methodology has helped me through. I express my sincere and heartfelt thanks for his worthwhile direction, effective suggestions as well as unfailing care and patience, with which he stood by me. Without him the work would not have been possible.

It is my privilege to emphatically express my sincere thanks to Prof. S. Kumar, former head and dean, Department of Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology who has unhesitatingly provided all administrative support required during my Data collection. His personal concern for the institution and for the progress of the young staff members always rejuvenated the task. I also thank Prof. D R Goel, dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology for his keenness to support every individual in all possible manner. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Prof. S.C. Panigrahi, head, Department of Education, not only for getting me through the administrative procedures but also for his research acumen that helped me to enhance the quality of my research.

I express my immense sense of gratitude to Prof. B. R. Sitaram, Director, Quality management cell, S N Kansagra and Zeal education society, Dr. Ashish Gerg, Associate Professor, North Eastern Regional Institute of Education, Prof. M K Yagnik, Head, Department of Education, Sardar Patel University, Vallabhvidhyanagar and Prof. T K S Lakshmi, Retd. Professor, Department of Education, Banasthali vidhyapith for their insight in the development of the Activity Based Science teaching Program. I am highly thankful to Mr. Sanjay Shah, a science enthusiast, Prof. S.P. Malhotra, Retd. Professor, Department of Education, Kurukshetra University, Prof. C. K. Bhogayata, Retd. Professor, Department of Education, Bhavnagar University, Prof. R G Kothari and Dr. Ashutosh Biswal, Department of Education (CASE), The M. S. University of Baroda, Prof. Bharat Joshi, Department of Education, Gujarat Vidyapeeth for their concrete suggestions in the improvement of the prepared tool. My thanks is due for Mr. Jeetendra Gavli, director, Community Science Center, Vadodara and Mr. N T Kasar, director, District Science Center, Dharampur. I am thankful to all the experts for their timely support in validating the tools and finalizing the draft of the developed programme which added quality to the research.

I am highly indebted to Dr. A. Ramachary, for his immense help, personal interest, invaluable suggestions and quick response to my queries. I express my deep gratitude to him for helping the researcher draw out her true potential by constant motivation and support.

My special thanks to all the student teachers of the course c-507; Teaching of Science during the year 2006-07, 2007-08, 2008-09 for their valuable time and immense cooperation in the participation and enrichment of the developed programme. My sincere thanks to all the student teachers of the teaching of science course of the year 2009-2010, who were the actual marathon runners in the implementation of the programme and provided their extra time without any hesitation, without which this work would not have been possible.

My sincere thanks to Nikhileshbhai and his team for rendering the technical services. I am thankful to Ashwinbhai Marvadi for his timely help in developing videos of the classroom transactions and process of implementation in the form of a set of DVDs.

My sincere thanks are to the administrative staff at Faculty of Education and Psychology, CASE and the head office, the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for their timely help. My special thanks to Divyaben for motivational words and motherly touch as and when required. I am also thankful to Pandya kaka and Jesalben for the library facility.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Kashyapi Awasthi for her keen interest in the refinement of ideas of the researcher and enriching the text of the thesis by going through the minute mistakes. I am also thankful to Dr. Preeti Chaudhary for being a supporting hand and being with me in this journey. My thanks are due to prerana for her inspirational gestures during the implementation of the programme, my other fellow colleagues Reena, Madhavi, Sheetal and all my senior colleagues in the Department.

I thank my co-researcher Neela Dongre, a science teacher at Jeevan Sadhna higher secondary school for sharing her expertise in the area of fun with science teaching.

My heartfelt thanks to all my students, their encouraging words and ideas boosted my morale. My special thanks to Nitesh and Dhariani for initiating the ideas in the mind of the researcher for taking up this area. I am also thankful to Mitali, Marlina, Jalpa and Purnima for providing me assistance during the visit of S N Kansagra library.

My heartfelt thanks are due to Jigar and Pooja for always reminding me about my target and dropping in a message "apka Ph.D. kahan tak pahuncha?" frequently. I am thankful to Jiten, Vaibhav and jaimini for their emotional support. I am also thankful to kalpana aunty for the gentle reminders "have vehlu vehlu puru karo ane amne party aapo" that kept me focused to achieve the target sooner.

I have no words to express my gratitude to my late mother for enabling me to sustain through the difficult moments of this journey even in her absence. I am thankful to my father Shri J. N. Parmar for being the role model and a motivational force in the each step of this academic endeavor. I also thank my younger sisters' Jaysfree and Anjana for their encouraging words and unconditional support in sharing my responsibilities. I am thankful to my parents in law for their blessings.

I am blessed to have a young sweet mother in my daughter Siddhi who in spite of her tender age like grown-ups took care of my work, valued my time, reminded me of my food, medicines, sleep, in short took the utmost care which she deserved from me as mother but rather than complaining about it she was there to smiling stand by me in every little task. I am really thankful to God and to her for blessing me with a darling daughter without her support I would never have been able to venture into such a gigantic task, its only because of her understanding that I am spared of the guilt which otherwise I would have carried for not being able to give time to my family. Thank you dear.

Last but not least, the man behind all my success, my caring and understanding, husband Ashok who with his unquestioning faith and noblest qualities shouldered not only his but also my responsibilities, provided me the space to work, fought with all the tough situations of life so as to help me accomplish the task without greater difficulty. I once again thank the Almighty for blessing me with such a considerate person and express my deepest gratitude to him.

Well, how do I thank the one who has given me an opportunity to thank so many people? It just shows how blessed I am to have near me people who are ready to extend their help. I express heartfelt gratitude to you oh almighty God! In my prayers, in my words and in my deeds, you have persevered with me in different forms, at times as my daughter, at times as my husband at times as my friend and at times as my guide. You have been my life time validity card with totally free talk time throughout life and the best part has been that your network has never been busy. Thank you God for the ample strength, for the free guidance and for the showers of blessings all throughout my life till here and in life hereafter.
