

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am highly indebted to Dr.(Miss) Nalini Ogale, Reader and Head of the Department of Home Management for her continued guidance and encouragement during the course of this study.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the help rendered by Professor Miss P.S. Chari, Dean, Faculty of Home Science and Head of the Department of Home Science Education and Extension (now retired) through valuable discussions from time to time. Thanks are also due to Prof. R. Subramaniam, Director, Centre for Research, Extension and Integrated Rural Development, Gandhigram Rural Institute for his suggestions and help at different stages of this study. I would like to express my thanks to Dr. M.M. Gandotra, Joint Director, Population Research Centre, Baroda for his expert guidance in the statistical analysis of the data.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the help given by the Vice-Chancellor and the other authorities of Gandhigram Rural Institute (Deemed University) by providing me with sufficient study leave under Faculty Improvement Programme to complete my studies.

I am also indebted to many of my co-workers, among whom I wish to mention specially Smt.N.Karunamma, Balwadi Supervisor and Smt. Rethnam, Asst. Balwadi Supervisor of Gandhigram Rural Institute, Gandhigram for assisting me in maintaining rapport with the villagers. The balwadi teachers in the respective villages need to be thanked for facilitating my stay in the Villages for conducting the field work.

Thanks are due to the librarians of the Universities of Madras, Madurai, Kerala and Gandhigram Rural Institute, besides the M. S. University of Baroda for permitting me to make use of the facilities in the respective libraries to do the review of literature to my satisfaction.

Many thanks are due to the respondent families for the data presented in this study. In spite of busy work schedule, they co-operated with me and tried sincerely to provide time and facilities for me for conducting this study.

My friends and co-workers who have assisted me at times of difficulties in pursuing the work are too many to be listed here. I owe a lot to each one of them.

Thanks are due to Mr. S.R. Nair for the meticulous care he has taken to type the manuscript in the present form.
