

Acknowledgement

First and foremost I would like to express my profound heartfelt sentiments of infinite gratitude to my guide Dr Dipti Oza who has led me like a teacher, encouraged me like a well wisher and guided me like professional. Words fall short to describe her infallible guidance of par excellence, suggestion and constructive insight, which enlightened me. My everlasting gratitude and reverence goes to her. I owe thanks to her for the continuous ground support, enriching me with infinite knowledge and metamorphosing me into a researcher.

I express my indebtedness to Dr Kumar, Dean, Faculty of Education & Psy for providing me with excellent facilities, resources and infrastructure needed for carrying out this research.

I also wish to thank Dr. R.G. Kothari, former Dean of Faculty of Education & Psy for assisting and motivating me during the initial phase of my research

I am extremely grateful to the Principal of Utkarsh School, Mrs. Ranjana Gupta for giving permission to collect data and the teaching staff of the School for cooperating with me. Thanks are also due to the students of this school who were my sample.

I would also like to acknowledge the outstanding teaching learning environment provided to me by all my teachers at CASE.

Words fall short to express my everlasting love for my parents, Dr. Ramesh Kumar Talwar and Mrs. Saroj Talwar for giving me life in the first place, for educating me and providing unconditional support and encouragement to pursue my interests even when they stretched beyond the means. Without my dad's tender loving care and constant encouragement this thesis would have never seen the light of the day. He was always there to meet and talk about my ideas, had confidence in me when I doubted myself and his presence motivated me to be persistent to accomplish my goal. My head bows in gratitude to him.

I am indebted to my husband Mr. Vaibhav Birwatkar for his continuous support. He was always there to listen and give advice. He showed me different ways to approach a research problem, proof read my chapters and taught me how to ask questions and express my ideas.

I would also like to thank my sister Reena for believing in me, encouraging me and providing emotional support through some turbulent phases. I appreciate my brother in law Jawahar's endeavour of sharing his experience of thesis writing with me and inspiring me.

I appreciate my in-laws, Neha & Vishal for their unconditional love and motivation.

It is indeed a great pleasure to thank Dr Ramachandran Rao whose timely assistance and inspiring suggestions enabled me to focus my views in the proper perspective

My best friends Monica and Sonam deserve a special mention as they really proved that a true friend could indeed change life for better. I would always fall back on them for any help and was never disappointed. A special word of thanks to Monica for painstakingly proofreading my thesis.

I also wish to thank my friends and fellow researchers Nishi, Ram kumar, Mukesh, Perana, Monisha, Jyoti, Raksha, Sister, Halim, Sonia, Vandana, Reena, Shilpi, Mounali, Kinnari, Preeti and Hetal for their constructive suggestions.

I extend my gratitude to all the experts for their constructive suggestions.

I wish to thank all the librarians of CASE library for providing me with all the learning resources and Divya ben and Sujata ben for their timely help regarding the official procedures.

Finally a word of thanks to all those who stood by me during the period of this research and have directly or indirectly made it possible for me to complete this research work.
