

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I feel it my duty to express my deep gratitude which I owe to all those academics and others who have inspired, motivated, guided and assisted me in the completion of this research work.

I must express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. S.R.Hashim, former Head of the Economics Department, M.S.University of Baroda, and presently the full time member of Planning Commission, Government of India, New Delhi who very sincerely motivated and inspired me to take up this task.

I have no effective words to express my gratefulness and thanks to Prof. R.N.P. Sinha, former Head of Geography Department who has enriched this work with his valuable suggestions, guidance, perusal and rectification at various stages in the course of its completion.

I am thankful to my colleagues who have benefited me with their valuable suggestions in the matters relating to this work, and especially to Dr (Mrs) Vimla Rangaswami, the present Head of the Department, who provided all possible facilities for the finalization of this work.

My deep gratitude is also due to the Mamlatdar of Jambusar, Taluka Development Officer of Taluuka Panchayat, Jambusar, Talatis and Circle Officer of the area selected for study; the store keepers, the Statistical Assistant of the Taluka Panchayat, the Head Masters of Sigam and Jantran High Schools, experienced and knowledgeable village people of the area who have extended all possible help in data collection, field work and access to official records.

I sincerely thank all the members of staff of the Department of Geography for their help and assistance in this work. Especially, I must thank and extend all good wishes to my students, Shri J.M.Sinnarkar and Shri Sanjay Patel, now working as Draftsmen in the Department, for their painstaking labour in the preparation of the maps and diagrams, and to Shri L.M.Pardeshi for the photographs. I also thank Shri P.R.Adajania, who assisted in the processing of data and preparation of various tables. I must not fail to express my deep gratitude to Shri M.K.Subedar and Shri K.M. Pathan who extended their benevolent support, especially in typing the text and giving the last finishing touch to this work.
