

To

My mother whose life as a working woman has enriched my understanding of women's work.

My father whose life and ideology have shaped my concern about the exploited and the oppressed.

All the women workers whose candid responses and sharing have made this study possible.