

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

A few words of acknowledgment are hardly sufficient to indicate the importance of the many people who contribute in an activity like research. To me, it has been an overwhelming experience to see a helping hand each time I desperately needed one.

My greatest debt is to my guide, Prof. C. N. Daftuar, Professor of Psychology and former Head, Department of Psychology, The M. S. University of Baroda, with whom I've had very intellectually stimulating discussions during various phases of my research. To him goes the credit of pulling me out of my slumber each time I slipped into one. To him also goes the credit of collecting data for me (which is quite unheard of) while on a consulting assignment, to Enercon, Daman, which was very crucial for me. Thank-you Sir!

To Shruti, my friend and her husband Rohit, Vice President, Contract Advertising Ltd., Mumbai, my heartfelt gratitude for all the support and help extended by them during my data collection. But for Shruti and Rohit, my research work would have come to a standstill. Thank-you Shruti, Thank-you Rohit!

My sincere thanks to Mr.Vikrant Bhatnagar, Deputy Manager, HRD, DDE-ORG, Vadodara, for extending all possible support in my data collection

I wish to thank all the respondents who willingly participated in my research work despite having to squeeze time.

I extend my deepest gratitude to the library staff of the The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara, Centre for Advanced Study in Education (CASE), Vadodara, The Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS), Mumbai, The National Institute of Industrial Engineering, (NITIE), Mumbai and the Bombay University for providing relevant literature.

My special thanks to my special friends Jamila and Uravi who have been my constant source of encouragement. Thank-you so much for your love and support!

A special thanks is also in reserve to my seniors but also my friends Priyanka and Anupama. who have always guided me and taken special care of me.

To my dear friend Priya who was my sounding board during the final stages of my PhD and who was at my side when I needed her the most.
Thank- you!

To all my fellow researchers of the Faculty of Education and Psychology viz., Ramu, Ramkumar, Sonal, Sister Shila, Monica, Mukul, Sam, Anshuman, Kishori, Vandana, - Reena, Raksha, Nishi, Halim and Deepali. Thank-you so much for making research FUN!

A heartfelt thanks to my parents for loving me unconditionally despite my being very difficult at times.

Thanks to all my family members and others for extending their moral support directly or indirectly.

My deepest gratitude to all my teachers and staff of the Department of Psychology and the Faculty of Education Psychology for being there whenever I needed them. A very special thanks to Rashmin, for helping me with my analysis.

A special thanks to The Aarogya team, Dr. Shubhada Kanani, Smita and Veenu for whose support and cooperation, I'm much grateful. But for them, research would have been very stressful. Thank-you!

To Sujata for helping me with a preliminary survey which set the ball rolling for my data collection. Thank-you for that and for your friendship!

A special thanks to my friend Vimal for being after me and motivating me. Thank-you!

To my childhood pals, Hema and Alka, Thank- you for being there always!

Finally, thanks to Harnish Gamit for doing all my typing, neatly and on time. Gratitude also to Mr. Manjit Banga and especially to Manda Gad of Fine Line Computers for helping me with the formatting and printing of my thesis when I was in dire straits.
