

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude and humbleness to my Guru and Guide Prof.R.C. Patel, Vice Chancellor, M.S. University of Baroda, for his unending interest, encouragement and support and for his valuable guidance, during various phases of the investigation. The thesis in its present form, is the result of the inspiration and enthusiasm instilled in me, by him.

I am also grateful to Dr. J. Srinivasan, Prof. of Mech. Engg., I.I.Sc., Bangalore and to Dr. Date, Prof. of Mech. Engg., I.I.T., Bombay, for their close association, encouragement and guidance. I am indebted to them, for having spared their valuable time.

Help received from the Head, Mech. Engg. Dept., I.I.Sc., Bangalore and the Librarian, I.I.T., Bombay is also acknowledged. Mr. Angirasa and Mr. Phanikumar, Ph.D. candidates of I.I.Sc., Bangalore, were also quite helpful.

I also acknowledge administrative help received from the Head Mech. Engg. Dept., M.S.U., Baroda, late Dr.S.K. Mehta and Dr. A.S. Fadke and co-operation and encouragement of my colleagues in the Department. I must mention in particular, M/s P.B. Desai, A.K. Mangalani, H.G. Rajput and my past students M/s Anilkumar, Vyas, Bhatt and Nene.

Finally, my thanks are due to M/s A.S. Karkhanis and S.A. Karkhanis for neat typing of the manuscript and tracing of the figures and to M/s Pratapbhai and Jagdishbhai for binding the thesis in its present form.
