

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author wishes to express his gratitude to Professor S.S. Merh, under whose guidance and supervision, the present investigation was conducted. But for his all round help, this thesis could not have been prepared.

Grateful thanks are also due to Drs. N.M. Vashi, S.J. Desai, S.G. Patel, M.P. Patel and B. Roy, who provided a variety of assistance to the author in the course of his investigation. The help provided by Shri B.N. Upreti who worked in the adjoining area to the south of Phalebas is also gratefully acknowledged.

It is also the author's duty to acknowledge the all round help and co-operation received from all his fellow research workers and the technical staff of the Geology Department.

The author also wishes to put on record his appreciation of the excellent photographic work done by Shri B.M. Chauhan, the artist of the Department. Shri V.F. Bhavsar is also acknowledged for typing the manuscript neatly.

The author wishes to place on record his deep sense of gratitude to his parents and brothers, who sacrificed a lot to provide him all facilities and comforts in the course of this long-drawn study.

Lastly, the financial support from the Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology is gratefully acknowledged.
