

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I have great pleasure in recording my deep sense of indebtedness to Dr. J. C. George, Professor and Head of the Department of Zoology, M.S.University, whose suggestion of the problem and helpful interest in my work enabled me to give it the present shape.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Director of Fisheries, Govt. of Gujarat, for extending facilities to undertake fishing trips aboard their departmental vessels. To the staff members of the Directorate of Fisheries, Govt. of Gujarat, for their kind assistance in the collection of fishes on the field trips, I am greatly obliged.

To Shri K. M. Desai and Shri M. M. Joseph, who studied some other aspects of the same fishes simultaneously, I wish to express my gratitude for their unfailing co-operation.

My special thanks are due to Dr. K. S. S. Nair for all that he did for me in the preparation of this thesis.
