

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I find myself lacking in words to extend my profound sense of respect and deepest gratitude to Professor Dr. R.I. N<sup>a</sup>navati, Director, Oriental Institute, (Formerly, Head, The Department of Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit and Principal, Sanskrit Mahavidyalaya), M.S. University of Baroda, my guiding teacher, for his invaluable guidance and unfailing academic support throughout the course of the present research work, without which it would not have been possible to complete this work. He has not only read the thesis closely, but also made valuable suggestions by discussing several intricate points connected with it. I, always, have been provided homely atmosphere in his respectable family at every stage in my foreign days of studies. I shall be ever grateful to him and his family.

I am highly indebted and grateful to late Professor Dr. R.N. Mehta, (Formerly, Head, the Department of Archaeology and Ancient History, M.S. University of Baroda), a veteran field archaeologist, an eminent historian and a well-known epigraphist, for suggesting the title of my thesis and for valuable guidance in the early stage of my thesis. Alas, he is not alive to see this thesis completed. May his soul rest in peace!

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to Professor Dr. V.H. Sonawane, another veteran field Archaeologist now Head, Department of Archaeology and Ancient History, M.S. University of Baroda, for thoroughly checking the archaeological section of my thesis inspite of his heavy schedules. After Professor R.N. Mehta, he constantly encouraged me as also gave valuable suggestions, generous help and co-operation at every stage of my project. I am truly grateful to him for giving his invaluable time whenever I consulted him.

I am very much obliged to Professor Dr. Uma Deshpande, Head, Department of Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit, M.S. University of Baroda, for taking keen interest in my work and making useful suggestions and encouragement.

I take this opportunity to thank the authorities of the Government. of India and the Government of Bangladesh for awarding me the I.C.C.R. (Indian Council for Cultural Relations) Scholarship under the Government of India through High Commission of India, Dhaka, Bangladesh. I am especially thankful to the I.C.C.R. for giving me the financial assistance without which, it would not have been possible for me to undertake this work. I shall be grateful forever to the Council for bestowing upon me this opportunity.

I express sincere thanks to all my departmental teachers, especially, Dr. Jaydev Jani, Dr. L.M Joshi and Dr. R.K. Panda for their kind co-operation and encouragement throughout this research work.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Md. Shafiqul Alam, Deputy Director, Directorate of Archaeology, Bangladesh, a veteran field Archaeologist and an eminent historian, for his immense co-operation, for providing valuable archaeological information and suggestions and for giving advice, constant encouragement and inspiration at every stage to complete my research work. I shall remain ever grateful to him.

I am extremely grateful to Md. Nazmul Ahshan Chowdhuri,ex-Director(Joint Secretary),Muhammad Abul Hossain, ex-Director ( Joint Secretary ) and Md. A. Z.M. Rafiq Bhuiyan, Director ( Joint Secretary ), Directorate of Archaeology, Government of the Peoples Republic of Bangladesh, for granting me the necessary leave to pursue this Ph.D. Programme and for supplying to me the photograph of the copper-plate grants, archaeological publications and constant encouragement all through my research work.

I am highly obliged and grateful to Md. Mohammad Ali, Deputy Director and Md. Abdul Khalek, Assistant Director, Directorate of Archaeology, for giving me academic support, constant encouragement and for providing the relevant archaeological material to carry out the entire work.

I gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by Dr. Abdus Sabur Mia, Regional Director, Md. Abu Musa, Regional Director, Md. Mosharraf Hossain, Deputy Director and Shihab-uddin Md. Akbar, Assistant Director, Directorate of Archaeology, Bangladesh for giving me kind co-operation, encouragement and inspiration for my Doctoral research.

I am extremely grateful and am offering hearty vote of thanks to Ms. Lata R. Nanavati for proof reading the entire archaeological portion thoroughly of my thesis inspite of her heavy duties and providing family atmosphere in her residence in my foreign days.

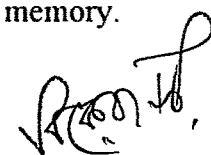

I deem it a pleasure to record my special and sincere thanks to Lovely Yasmin, Research Assistant, Directorate of Archaeology, Dhaka, Bangladesh, my colleague and friend, for her continuous encouragement, inspiration and keen moral support during the course of my work and for sending important data whenever I needed and wrote to her in Bangladesh. I am also thankful to Md. Tauhidunnabi, Chief Photographer, Directorate of Archeology, for making the photographs.

The thesis would not have seen the light of the day, unless there were a facility of the extensive library. I am thankful to the Authorities of the Oriental Institute, Smt. Hansa Mehta Library, of Baroda, Departmental Library of the Department of Archaeology and Ancient History, M.S. University of Baroda and Departmental Library of the Directorate of Archaeology, Dhaka University Library, Bangladesh, for allowing me to consult number less books, Journals and Periodicals and Manuscripts in their possession. Especially, I would like to offer my sincere thanks to Ms Alka Patel, Librarian, Oriental Institute, M.S. University of Baroda for her cordial co- operation to complete my project smoothly

I would like to express my sincere thanks to a number of friends and individuals who have helped me in one way or another during the course of my study. My special thanks due to Joydev Kumar Saha, Umesh Kumar Tiwari and Santimoy Dutta, for all their friendly co-operation to me in my carrying out this work.

Hemant Bhatt, my friend, has very nicely and accurately typed the entire thesis, within the stipulated period. In spite of his having heavy load of work, he undertook and successfully completed this work within a short period. He deserves my hearty vote of thanks.

I am extremely obliged and grateful to my dearest mother, my brother and my sister for their constant encouragement inspiration and strong moral support during the entire course of my studies. The successful completion of this huge task reminds me of my father, late Ranajith Kumar Banik. I am what I am today due to him only. I , therefore, dedicate this work of mine to his sacred and fondest memory.
