The author is very much indebted to Dr.M.P.Patel, Reader in Geology, Faculty of Science, M.S.University of Baroda, under whose guidance this work has been carried out. This thesis would not have been completed without his innovative and meticulous guidance throughout this work.

The author takes this opportunity to express his deep sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to Prof.S.S. Merh, for suggesting the problem, reading the manuscript critically and advising the author at various stages in the preparation of the thesis.

The author's grateful thanks are due to Prof.N.M.Vashi, Head, Department of Geology, M.S.University of Baroda for his constant help and encouragement, and to Dr.S.J.Desai for critically scrutinising the text.

The author would like to make a special mention of Dr.(Kum.) Kanan Pandya, who helped him unreservedly at all stages of this investigation, and rendered her unstinted help on micropalaeontological aspects.

The author is thankful to Dr.N.D.Desai and Dr.S. Ganapathi for being kind enough to go through the various chapters and offer valuable comments.

Special mention needs to be made of Mr.Md.Badrul Islam for his help while conducting the field work. Grateful thanks are also due to Dr.S.P.H.Sychanthavong, Mr.K.C.Tiwari, Mehraban Ardeshirian, Ahmad Alavi, Ajay Rawat, Manvendra Parmar and other colleagues in the Department.

The author wishes to extend his thanks to Mr.J.S. Thakkar and Mr.Purohit, Executive Engineers, Irrigation Department, Government of Gujarat for providing lodging facilities during field work.

The author also wishes to thank Shri B.M.Chauhan for excellent photographic support, Mrs.R.Titus and Miss Priti Patel have to be thanked for typing the thesis so neatly. The author is thankful Shri R.K.Parmar and his office colleagues for providing all secretarial help in the department.

Finally, the author would express gratefulness to his family members, Aunty Banoo and Uncle Aspandiar who ungrudgingly provided encouragement and moral and material support all throughout the period of the investigation.
