

Acknowledgement

At the onset I thank my God almighty who has bestowed upon me with an opportunity to work with a group of dedicated and talented professionals. I wholeheartedly thank my guide and mentor Professor R. Balaraman for registering me as his student. His valuable advice, teaching and continuous support has always motivated and strengthened my will to succeed in all endeavors. I also thank Dr. A.N. Mishra, Head Pharmacy department, for allowing me to use research facilities in the college.

I am grateful for the timely assistance offered by my research colleagues at MS University Baroda, to name a few Mr Voonoth Kumar, Dr Bothara, Dr Majithiya, Mr V Dhote, Mr C Trivedi, Mr R. Zalawadia. I also appreciate the cooperation extended by my colleagues in my college at Bangalore. My special appreciation to Dr Kalyani Prakasam, Principal VIPS, Dr Rema Razdan, Mrs Saraswati, Mr Sujauddin, Mr Kamal, Mrs Ajeesha, Mr Hariprasad, Mrs Aruna, Mr Firdouse, Mr Veerendra, Mr Musheer etc. My sincere thanks also to the management of Vokkaligara Sangha Bangalore for providing me necessary infrastructure, facilities, leaves etc to carry out PhD studies.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my parents who not only encouraged me but also helped me to procure hundreds of kilograms of fresh crude drug. Last but not the least let me confess I could not have pursued PhD studies without the support of my dear family members. My special thanks to my wife Roopa and dear daughter Christine who have helped in all possible way during my PhD studies.
