

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Although my name is on its spine, this thesis has only been made possible through the efforts of others to whom I owe debts of gratitude that cannot be repaid in a few modest paragraphs.

My first thanks must go to Prof. (Dr.) SH Mishra, my guide, for his support, encouragement, and advice during every stage of my research, since October 2007. I have always benefited from his useful comments, suggestions and constructive discussions. I thank him for devoting enormous efforts and time to help me in research activities.

I am grateful to Prof. (Dr.) M. R. Yadav, Head, Pharmacy Department and Prof. (Dr.) S. J. Rajput, Coordinator, G. H. Patel Pharmacy Department, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara, for providing necessary facilities for this work.

I sincerely acknowledge my warmest thanks to Prof. (Dr.) Rajani Giridhar for her consistent support and also for providing me the facilities to perform PTP1B inhibition and anti-platelet studies. I would also like to thank Prof. (Dr.) Balaraman for extending constant inspiration throughout my research work.

I am thankful to Dr. Dorothy Steane for her help in identifying the DNA sequence of my study material. I would like to thank Dr. Vipin Dhote and Dr. Aman Upaganlawar for rendering their help to procure and carry out animal studies. I also thank Mr. Murugeshan for providing brine shrimp eggs for my studies.

I genuinely acknowledge my thanks for the assistance rendered by my colleagues Dr. Mayur Patel, Mr. Ashish Trivedi, Mr. Mukesh Kumar, Mr. Neeraj Sethiya and Mr. Mahendra Jain.

I thank Mr. Mashru for helping me in plant collection. I also would like to express my gratitude to the non-teaching staff Mr. Jeevan, Mr. Nagin, Mr. Praveen and Mr. Jagdish of G.H. Pharmacy Building for their constant support.

For a research scholar who is single and staying at hostel, food source becomes so vital. I would certainly like to acknowledge Mr. Rajubhai for providing me healthy and particularly oily food. Mr. Lakshmi Narayan and Mr. Sekhar Bhai are two names whom I can by no means forget to acknowledge for making my hostel life more enthusiastic.

I honestly acknowledge my admiration to Mr. Balvant Singh for providing arousing tea to keep me going through out these three years, most of the time on debt basis. I also have to mention Mr. Gautam, my midnight tea provider. This list doesn't end without the mention of Mausai, another tea supplier who inspired me by her hard work and kindness.

I should also appreciate the consistent motivation of Ms. Minalba through her philosophical SMSs.

I am pleased to thank Dr. Anand Bafna for inspiring and supporting me all along this research work. I must mention the name of my senior Dr. Krishna Murthy, for his moral support and inspiring discussions.

I would certainly like to thank the funding agencies for denying timely fund for my research work and stimulating me to work harder. Lack of funding never hindered my research work because of the generosity of Dr. Gopu, Dr. Raghuraman, Mr. Prabhakar (Gundus), Mr. Paramakrishnan, Mr. Vimal Kumar, Mr. Devendran, Mrs. Kasturi Bai, Mr. Rajani Raja, Mr. Bhavani Shankar, Dr. Suthar Singh, Dr. Suresh Kumar, Mr. Vignesh, Mr. Saroj Roy and Mr. Parag Kulkarni.

I would like to thank my colleagues and friends, Ms. Ruchi, Ms. Roshani, Mr. Bhavik, Mr. Chintan, Mr. Pradip and Mr. Bhavik (Motta) for their contribution towards my research work.

I am indebted to acknowledge my gratitude to Ms. Alka and Ms. Bhavna Sharma for supporting and encouraging me when I was bewildered.

I owe tonnes of gratitude to my best friends Mrs. Elizabeth Midhu Joseph (The Pakki), Mr. Muthu Vijaya Kumar, Mr. Thirumalai Nathan and Mr. Mohammed Abrar for their support and confidence, no matter what ever I do.

This acknowledgement will not be complete if I don't mention the names of few benevolent individuals whom I came to know during my stay at Vadodara, Mr. Dhaval Prajapati, Mr. Vishal Zambre, Mr. Riyaj Tamboli, Mr. Koiremba Singh, Mr. Rajesh (The Anna), Mr. Vishal Patel, Mr. Palash Pal (Dada), Mr. Anand Mantri, Mr. Jigar Lalani, Mr. Abhishek Pathak, Mr. Yogesh (Delhi-6) and Mr. Nileesh. They have supported me morally, financially and have fed me when I was ravenous. Knowing them has concreted my philosophy 'people first than profit' and they are the living substantiation for the existence of humanity.

I should thank Mr. Vishal Patel for his constant supply of movies/documentaries to keep my mind hassle free when research work was not progressive.

I would like to acknowledge my appreciation to Mr. Koiremba Singh for his constructive criticism and arguments on science and philosophy which very often shook my thoughts and research directions. We spent a good time in debates (which mostly lasted till early morning) beyond the borders of our research that helped me to continue my research with no stress and strain.

I am grateful to Mr. Rajesh (The Anna), for his constructive critical views. My special thanks to him for furnishing tremendous support in drafting this thesis and for his generous sponsoring of my mid night teas.

I can never miss to quote Mr. Vishal Zambre and Mr. Dhaval Prajapati for their support and productive late night discussions. They have constantly encouraged me to chase my dreams. I owe a special thanks to Mr. Riyaj Tamboli for his trust on me that someday I will reach my destiny and also thank him for providing computer facilities to draft this thesis.

My family, Mr. Kumaradoss Gandhi, Mrs. Pushpa, Dr. Kathiravan, Dr. Suriya Prabha, Ms. Junior (Deepika), Master Priyan, Ms. Vatsala and Mr. Dinu whom I have to thank for encouraging me to pursue my dreams, whatever and however strange they may have been (except my lengthy hair).

This one name has forever been the essence of my life; whatever I am today is precisely because of him, my grandpa Thiyagi Late V. Muthu. He instilled the purpose and philosophy of life in to me. It would be appropriate to live a fruitful humane life on his doctrines than to disgrace him by mere admiration.

If I have left anyone out, I honestly express regret, but know that my thanks goes out to you as well. Any mistakes within the text are unintentional and purely the fault of the author.
