

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is indeed with a deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness, that I express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to Dr. A.V. Ramachandran for the suggestion of the problem. The final form and substance of the thesis are the result of his inspiring guidance, constructive criticism and constant encouragement.

I am thankful to Prof. B. Pilo, Head, Department of Zoology, for providing the facilities to conduct the work.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. Michael Aruldas and his colleagues at the Department of Endocrinology, Taramani, Madras for providing the facilities and help for carrying out hormonal assays.

I sincerely thank Dr (Miss) M.V. Asnani for her valuable help in preparing the thesis without whose help, the thesis would not have been in the present form.

I am also thankful to Dr. Meena Patel for technical suggestions and help rendered to me during the course of my work.

My special thanks are due to Dr (Mrs) S.J. Killedar, Dr John

Joseph and Dr C.S. Patel for their valuable help and encouragement throughout.

I am also thankful to UGC for granting Research Assistantship in the research project "Pineal-adrenal axis in reproductive functioning and metabolic physiology of birds".

I am thankful to all my teacher and Junior colleagues as well as the members of non-teaching staff for the help rendered to me in one way or the other.
