

Acknowledgements

No academic work can be done in this world without co-operation, encouragement and assistance of others. This work of mine also reflects not only my own work, but the contributions of various persons. I am in great debt to those who have expended their energies and resources on my behalf to assist in the completion of this project.

My chief intellectual debt has been to my guiding teacher Dr. Raj Kumar Hans for his constant guidance and encouragement. Words may not adequately express my gratitude first for accepting me to guide in difficult moments and secondly for the time he has devoted for my work, not taking break even during his summer vacation. I can not forget the guidance offered by Prof. G. A. Pandor in the initial stage of this work and I am thankful to him.

My special thanks to Dr. R. J. Shah, Head, Department of History, the M. S. University of Baroda for giving me this opportunity and extending official help wherever and whenever needed.

I am also thankful to the Indian Council of Historical Research (I.C.H.R.) for providing me grant to carry out the work when funds were most needed.

I am thankful to Dr Gita Debnath, Principal of Kabi Nazrul Mahavidyalaya, Sonamura, West Tripura, for her encouragement and her liberality in extending all support to see the finalization of my thesis. I am also grateful to Mr Mridul Das, Director of Higher Education, Government of Tripura, for permitting me to continue my Ph.D. work during my vacation days.

My deep sense of gratitude goes to Dr. Mangubhai Patel, Shri Mohanlal Patel, Prof. Makrand Mehta, Keshubhai Patel, Dahyabhai Patel and Kantaben Gordhanbhai Patel for sparing time for me and providing me valuable Gujarati books on the patidar community. My special thanks to various male and female members of patidar society for providing me valuable information on the patidar community.

I extend my thanks to the authorities and staff members of Smt. Hansa Mehta Library of the M. S. University of Baroda, Library of Sociology Department, the M. S. U. of Baroda, Baroda Record Office; Women's Studies Research Centre, MSU Baroda; Central Library Mandvi; Mumbai State Archives; and S. N. D. T. College Library for extending all cooperation and supporting my demands.

I am also deeply thankful to Ms. Shakuntala Hans for her encouragement, support, help and cooperation to pursue my work,

I cannot forget the help extended by my family members. My deep gratitude is due to my parents Jyotsna & Sukhendra Bhattacharyas; Dr. Parag Bhattacharya, my husband; Subrata Bhattacharya; Sutapa Bhattacharya; Subhra Bhattacharya, Debaprasad Roy for their support and moral encouragement whenever I needed most. Ruchira, my daughter, had been my constant support and friend even when she had to put up for long hours without me. I am also thankful to my friend Bina Sengar for providing me necessary help and cooperation in my research work,

Last but not least my thanks are to Kashyap Desai, Rajesh Shil, Shishir Ghosh, Ashok Chakraborty and Jayanta Chakraborty for their technical help in my work.

In the end, I am solely responsible for the errors and pitfalls in the thesis as I am aware such things are bound to be there when one is working against the deadlines.
