I take this opportunity to express a deep sense of gratitude to many persons who have helped me in the present investigation.

Dr. G. B. Shah, Professor and Head of the Department of Education, Technical Teachers' Training Institute, Madras, and my adviser for the present study, has given me invaluable guidance and encouragement all throughout the course of the investigation. I can not but express my heartfelt thanks to him.

Dr. D. M. Desai, Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M. S. University, Baroda, has always been helpful to me in planning and implementing practical measures related to the present study.

Dr. M. B. Buch, Head, CASE and Department of Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, Baroda, has also helped me by giving valuable suggestions regarding statistical analysis of data.

Dr. Rikhavbhai Shah, Gujarat Vidyapith, Ahmedabad, has helped me in carrying out the factor analysis procedure. Prof. Indrajit Doctor, V. T. C. Sarvajanic College of Education, Surat, has also helped me in statistical tabulation.

I should gratefully acknowledge the debt I owe to the principals and teachers of various colleges where I administered my test, for having given me all the facilities in my work. I should specially thank Dr. Gauribhai Bhatt and Prof. Shirish Mankad of Aliabada and Prin. Kalyani of Bhuj for their assistance in administering the test.

I should thank my colleagues on the faculty of V. T. C. Sarvajanic College of Education, Surat, and especially Prin. D. V. Desai, for their constant encouragement in my work.

I should not forget Rushika Dolatjada, Dalpatbhai Mistry, Nila Kapadia and Vira Daboo - all of whom have helped me in preparing the test.

Shri Amritbhai Desai has taken great pains for typing the thesis in an excellent manner. His constant care has been of great help to me.

Lastly, I thank my wife but for whose constant and loving encouragement, this thesis would not have been completed.
