

Acknowledgments

It is my privilege to thank all those who helped me to write this thesis.

I am grateful to Dr. S.R. Hashim, Professor of Economics, M.S. University, Baroda, under whose competent guidance the thesis was written. He encouraged me to pursue a line of enquiry in a relatively unfamiliar field and made valuable suggestions to make the study coherent. But for the framework suggested by him, the study would have perhaps lacked whatever element of rigour it has.

I am deeply indebted to Prof. R. Radhakrishna, Head, Department of Economics, University of Hyderabad, for the interest he took in my work. Whenever I had a problem, he willingly spent his precious time to discuss it and made constructive suggestions to tackle it. But for his interest and encouragement perhaps the thesis would not have been written.

I am also thankful to my colleague Mr.W. Veerabhadra Rao, who was always available for discussions and helped me with the proof reading of the thesis.

I wish to express my thanks to Mr. Gautam Mitra and Mr. Indra Kant for their assistance in computer programming.

I am thankful to Mr. P.Nageswara Rao, who typed the thesis with great care and skill.

I have tried to incorporate the valuable suggestions made by all those with whom I had discussed my work; however, the responsibility for the omissions and mistakes that remain is entirely mine.
