DEDICATED

AND
THE ALMIGHTY
WHERE MY MOTHER'S SOUL RESTS

At this instance I take an opportunity to express my earnest regards to Prof. Dr. S. R. Dave, Head of the Microbiology department, School of Sciences, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad for his esteemed assistance, instructions and guidance in the experimental set up, photographs and inferences on many of the experimental results, from the microbiology point of view. Without his assistance I would not have completed the experimental work satisfactorily.

I extend my special thanks to the processing department of CIPET, Vatva, esp. Mr. Dinesh Thakker, for manufacturing the plasticized films timely and as per my requirement. He also has supported in measuring the parameters of the extruder.

I would also like to thank Prof. Dr. R. M. Patel, Prof. Dr. J. S. Parmar and Dr. Navinbhai, of the Department of Chemistry, Sardar Patel University, Vallabh Vidyanagar for the mechanical test results.

Mr. B. R. Phadnis of M/S Alekh Plastics also owe to special regards for his indefatigable efforts in measuring the mechanical strength and weight loss of the massive numbers of specimen in a single day so that the results can be comparable.

I am earnestly thankful to Prof. Dr. Yamini Shah of L. M. College of Pharmacy, Prof. Dr. Dutta Madamvar Head of Bioscience Department, Sardar Patel University, Vallabh Vidyanagar, Head of the Microbiology department, Science College, Vasna, Ahmedabad for their priceless suggestions and encouraging gestures regarding the experimental work. The Agricultural Laboratory Gandhinagar has extended their cooperation in the analysis of soil.

Apart from the dedication, I capture this opportunity to express my feelings towards my Father, Shri V. A. Uchat (B. E. Civil), who despite of enduring many changes of fortune has encouraged me for setting higher goals and achieving those goals. It is because of his wish and firm determination that I have reached this academic position. He believes that "All Power Is Within You, You Can Do Everything And Anything. Believe In That". I just have tried to acknowledge his beliefs.

I have attained unfathomable support of my elder brother Mr. ANUPAM V. UCHAT B.E. (MECHANICAL), AMIE (PRODUCTION) in this work. My niece FORAM and my special little daughter RACHNA tolerantly and uncomplainingly have supported in all my duties.

I personally exchange a few words of admiration with all these well-regarded personalities for their comprehensive and fortified efforts in this substantial endeavor.

Gnaneshwary D. Shah.
