The present doctoral study is the result of the untiring labour of two years and a half on the part of the investigator. His task had become all the more challenging because he was working full-time in a college of education, and utilizing, in the possible maximum measure, the holidays, vacations and some casual leave breaks to go out in the field to collect his data. In this formidable task, he received precious cooperation, help and the much needed encouragement from his principal, Dr. Punambhai A. Patel. He went out of his way and did everything possible to facilitate the investigator's onerous task.

He owes deeply to his guide Professor D.M. DESAI, Former Dean of the Faculty of Education and Psychology, and Head, Department of Educational Administration, M.S. University of Baroda who served as his mentor all throughout the planning and execution of the study. His guidance was a source of both comfort and inspiration. The norms he set for hard, conscientious and discerning work kept the investigator on the right tract.

In the statistical analysis of the data, he was considerably guided by Professor P.K. Bassi, now Head, Department of Education, Indore University, Indore, Dr. N.S. Pathak, Reader in Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, Dr. Neelaben Shelat of Department of Educational Administration, and Dr. Pramila Dekhtawala of Centre of Advanced Study in Education, Baroda. He acknowledges the debt of their precious help. Shri B.A. Patel, Statistician, the Physical Research Laboratory (Computer Section) also considerably facilitated his task of writing programmes for data processing with friendly help and guidance.

He also received help from a good band of his well wishers, friends and relatives. Among them, he would particularly like to acknowledge the precious services rendered to him by Shri C.U. Desai, retired Principal, Esplanade High School, Bombay, his wife Shrimati Sudha K. Gandhi, Smt. Ashaben Desai, Dr. Miss. Chitra Desai, Smt. Sarojben Padhye and others. Shri C.N. Kachhia ungrudgingly took up the back-breaking strenuous work of typing with meticulous care the present voluminous thesis. The investigator thanks him profusely.

Last but not the least, he would like to thank the heads and teachers of the 128 secondary schools who participated in this research Yajna.
