

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I am highly indebted to my Guide, Dr. Anjuli Verma, Head of the Department of Psychology, Faculty of Education and Psychology, under whose supervision this research work has been carried out, for her constant inspiration and counsel. She had personal attachment to the subject, which she perceived to be of utmost psychosocial relevance. She took keen interest in this investigation and guided me at every stage of this work inspite of her tight academic pre-occupations and engagements.

I am also extremely grateful to Prof.RG.Kothari, Vice Chancellor of South Gujarat University, Surat, for his expert opinions and invaluable help in the course of this research.

Inspiration for this research work came from my father, Dr. D.D.Rishi, whose counsel was also available to me at every step. It gives me immense pleasure in acknowledging his invaluable assistance during the research tenure.

I am grateful to Mr.Rashmin Sompura, for his guidance during the statistical interpretation of the study.

I am thankful to Mr. K.C.Patel, Principal of Kamalaben Badhir School, Vadodara; Mr.Desia, Principal of School of Deaf and Mutes, Ahmedabad; Mrs.Varsha Trivedi, Principal of K.L.Institute, Bhavnagar; Mrs.Nisha Grover, Principal of Akshar Trust School, Vadodara; and Mr.Mundra and Mr. Dhanani, Trustees of Shri Mundra and Dhanani Deaf and Dumb School, Jamnagar, for enlightening me about various aspects of hearing impairment on the basis of their rich personal experiences.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr.Nene, Ent Surgeon, K.G.P hospital; Dr.Saini, Ent Surgeon; Ms.Heene Gala, Speech therapist; Dr.Falguni, Audiologist and Speech Pathologist for discussing about various Medical and Rehabilitation aspects of hearing impairment.

I am grateful to Ms.Rohini Haldankar, Speech therapist, K.G.P.hospital; Ms.Pratiksha Bhabhor, Social worker; Ms.Pravina, Special Educator (HI); Ms. Geeta Parmar, Parent of a hearing impaired child and Special Educator (HI); Ms.Sandra, Parent of a hearing impaired child and Special Educator (HI); Ms. Kavita Thakkar, Special Educator (HI); Dr. Singlot, Parent of a hearing impaired child; Mr.Rawal, Special Educator (HI); Ms.Usha, Special Educator (HI); and Ms.Harsha, Special Educator (HI) for helping me to modify the testing inventories and in preparing the interview schedules.

I am deeply indebted to my mother, Ms. Kamlesh Rishi, who is also a Special Educator (HI), for assisting and helping me throughout the data collection tenure. She devotedly spent a good part of her busy time in helping me in getting the questionnaire filled in from hearing impaired respondents. She also took great pains to teach me some sign language.

I am indebted to Mr.Iqbal Sheikh, Astt. Director of Libraries, Gujarat, for giving me permission for assessing almost all the major libraries of Gujarat.

I am grateful to Mr.Imran Sheikh and Mr.Guarang Vorah for translating my testing inventories into Gujarati Language.

I am indebted to Mr.Ved Prakash Chawalia for supplying me with all the important books and magazines available at Delhi.

I am extremely grateful to Managers, Principals, and Staff members, Teachers and to all the Subjects who served as the respondents for this investigation.

I express my gratitude to my sister, Ms.Deepika Dev Rishi, my husband, Dr. Sunil Pasricha, my father-in-law, Mr.Yashpal Pasricha and to my mother-in-law, Ms.Prem Pasricha for their moral support and encouragement.

There is large number of other friends and well-wishers who have helped me in this venture. I would have liked to name each one of them here, but it is not possible to do so for obvious reasons. I express my gratitude to all of them.

Vadodara, Gujarat.
