

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I would like to acknowledge my deepest gratitude to the faculty of Education and Psychology for all the support and care. All three departments, Psychology, Educational Administration and Education (CASE) enhanced my knowledge and abilities of research in psychology and education.

I am using this opportunity to express gratefulness for wonderful people around who encouraged me in every phase of Ph.D. and those who believed in me.

My sincere and deepest thankfulness to my guide (mere guide) Dr. Renu Sharma, Department of Psychology, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for her guidance and encouragement throughout this entire thesis process. I am inspired from her way of being open to ideas to all phases of life and for expressing her perspective whenever I was in dilemma. The word 'thank you' seems not enough, Renu Ma'am for your valuable insights and feedback for the work I have done. Mistakes taught me many things. I will put my best efforts not to repeat mistakes I do in writing.

I owe thousand times thankfulness and respect to my family for the constant support and the patience. The love of my parents and my brother became a strength to me to be patient in every situation and keep moving. I have seen their proud face while saying, our son is doing Ph.D. in psychology and that moment keeps me motivated.

I would like to express immense gratitude to Prof. R.C. Patel, Dean and Director, Faculty of Education and Psychology, School Leadership Academy, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda; Prof. Pushpanadham, Department of Educational Administration, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda and Prof. Urmi Nanda Biswas, Department of Psychology, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, for teaching me different aspects of research and supporting me financially.

I am thankful to Dr. Rashmin Sompura, Head, Department of Psychology, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for the support and guidance throughout the process of Ph.D. That one minute talk and walk with you sir was fuel to my ideas. I am also wholeheartedly thankful to my mentor and my friend, Mr. Kiransinh Rajput, Lecturer, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for constant support and guidance in the process. I learned statistical analysis and reporting from you, sir. I truly respect your care and love. My wholehearted gratitude to Dr.

Priyanka Behrani and Dr. Dhvani Patel for believing me and for the encouragement to give my best.

My special gratitude and respect to Ms. Falguni Harpale for cultivating the idea of doing Ph.D. and taking a chance with what I have and not waiting for opportunity to come.

I am fortunate to have people for the intellectual insights and sparing time for research methods, tool development, data analysis, thesis and paper writing. Dr. Apurva Pandya – thank you for receiving calls anytime any day and sharing your perspectives. It helped me lot. Mr. Keyoor Joshi, my sir, my mentor and my friend, I owe you many things, Sir. & Shreelakshmi Subbaswamy, for anytime discussion and reframing sentences.

The list goes like this: My brother like dost – (Aditya, Shailendra, Roger, Kashyap and Yash (Bhauji)), Aryani, Megha, Lipika, Tapoo and Pandya Parivar, Priya, Dhruti, Ankita Awasthi, Sheba, Dorcas, Avani, Nishpriha, Shrimali Sir, Divya Ma'am, Parimal Sir, Jyotsna Ma'am, Veena Ma'am, Darshana Ma'am, Kalpana Ma'am, Falguni (Hemangini), Meeta Di, Rajesh Bhai, Sumit, Hemendra Mistry, Neela ben, Paresh bhai, Rajesh bhai, Arti Madam, Rana Sir, Anil Bhai, All Jignesh Bhai, Dharmesh bhai, Jashwant, Anjali, Yamini, Nazish, Sadiya and Campwala Family, Kruti, Neha, Dhruti Sorathiya, Nidhi, Sugandha, Amita, Dyutima, Tripti, Usman and Family, Das Family from Bhopal, Rekha Maasi, Kushal, Irfan, Chirag, Gaurang, Jaison, Pallavi Madam, Darshana, Parmeshwari, Mohsin Garana, Rajendra, Disha, Nimisha Rastogi, Rubina, Parisha, Dr. Shagufta, Prof. Shagufta, Ashwin Bhai, Yogesh bhai, Prem, Govind Bhai, Jigo and Raju, Maasi, Mayur and Maamu.

I would like to express gratitude all the psychology professionals who have responded in this study. I would like to say special thanks to Google, for developing such a wonderful application – 'Google Forms' for free and making data collection easier and productive. I also got attached to material things and feel grateful such as my laptop – for being with me in every need.

At last, I extent my thankfulness to the unknown universe for connecting the dots and letting things happen on right time at right place.

Love,
Jatin Patel
